

Praise for Grassroots Spirituality

“Grassroots Spirituality” is an amazing document. Reading it was like an intravenous infusion of encouragement about what is taking place “out there.” . . . it is richly deserving of a broad audience.” Larry Dossey, MD, author of Rediscovering the Soul, and Healing Words.

“This is a seminal book. It describes the emerging phenomenon of the kind of spirituality many of us have been individually exploring without realizing the extent to which society has been experiencing it. This work has to get out!” Martin Rutte, co-author, Chicken Soup for the Soul at Work.

“Robert Forman . . . offers an outstanding and impressive report which reveals a surprising and pervasive theological agreement within the Spirituality Movement. His exciting survey graphically illustrates the possibility of this movement shaping a creative era where an unwavering current of spirituality ignites sustained meaning and responds to new and old needs of religiosity.” Angeles Arrien, Ph.D., Cultural anthropologist; author of the Four-Fold Way and Signs of Life.

“This is an important document about a profound shift in the nature of spirituality in America, and could presage a major 21st Century trend.” Philip Goldberg, author of Roadsigns on the Spiritual Path.

“Robert Forman is in a unique position to inform us about grassroots spirituality. For the past several years he has been conducting both informal and formal research with participants in this movement. He brings to this task his background as a scholar of religion and a faculty member, with the analytical tools to assess, analyze and communicate to us about the significant features of spirituality in the United States today.” Harvey Aronson, Ph.D., Director Dawn Mountain Tibetan Temple.

“Grassroots Spirituality is an incredible piece of work! Well thought out and well written, it covers an amorphous topic with great intellectual ambition and integration. Dr. Forman is the perfect person to do this. He was able to see current phenomena in the context of history and world religions.” Rachel Harris, Ph.D., Eselen, author of A Child Learns What They Live.
