

Contents

Foreword	v
Zdravko Radman
Introductory Essay
Consciousness in the Light of the Non-Conscious Brain	ix
Joseph LeDoux
Consciousness Meets the Unconscious
Elegant Actors for a Smooth Unconscious to Conscious Transition	1
Alain Berthoz
There is No Pure Consciousness and No Innocent Unconscious	26
Zdravko Radman
The Interdependence between Conscious and Unconscious Processes	50
Donish Cushing, Reza D. Ghafur and Ezequiel Morsella
As Above, So Below:
Tangled Loops between Consciousness and the Unconscious	83
Axel Cleeremans
Higher-Order Awareness, Misrepresentation, and Function	106
David Rosenthal
Doing Complex Cognitive Tasks in a Non-Conscious Way
Unconscious Perception and the Function of Consciousness	142
Jesse Prinz
Pre-noetic Effects on Perception and Judgment	163
Shaun Gallagher
The Anatomy of an (Unconscious) Decision	174
Ben R. Newell
Memory, Consciousness, and the Hippocampus	192
Thomas Reber

Can We Think Unconsciously Via Analogy?	206
Penka Hristova
The Unconscious Sophistication of Skills
Habits and the Intergration of Conscious and Non-Conscious Human Actions	225
Javier Bernacer and Jose Ignacio Murillo
Flow, Choke, Skill: The Role of the Non-Conscious in Sport Performance	246
Massimiliano Cappuccio
Auditory Verbal Hallucinations and Inner Speech: A Predictive Processing Perspective	284
Sam Wilkinson and Charles Fernyhough
'Efforts of the Cultivated Mind': Neurological Impairment, Intention, and Attention to the Body	304
Jonathan Cole
An Epilogue	319
Chris D. Frith
Notes on Contributors	329
Index	337